Pacific Northwest Viols will hold its seventh weeklong residential viol workshop July 10–16, 2016, on the beautiful and comfortable campus of the University of Puget Sound, in Tacoma, Washington. Music Director Lee Inman will host an outstanding faculty, offering a rich variety of classes. The theme of the week will be The Versatile Viol—the viol in its many guises and roles across both space and time. Aaron Cain will return to conduct daily sessions of music for voices and viols, and special focus will be given mid-week on sight-reading skills and tips. Other class topics will include exploration of Madrigals and Madrigal Fantasies, Late Renaissance Mannerism, the vocabulary of the viol, dance music, fluency in clef-reading and transposition, and works by specific composers, such as Jenkins and Lawes. Do join us for this intensive and enjoyable week with some of the finest teachers of our beloved instrument.

Program

Workshop check-in will begin at 3:00 pm on Sunday, July 10, with a pre-dinner gathering for students and faculty at 5:00 pm. The workshop will end with lunch on Saturday, July 16. Please inquire if you need help arranging transportation to and from the Seattle-Tacoma airport, or with accommodation before or after the workshop.

The daily program includes three 75-minute class sessions as well as the “Voyces and Vyals”, directed by baritone Aaron Cain. On Wednesday morning there will be three one-hour sessions on “Sight-reading”. Every faculty member will have a different take on the subject.

Evening activities include a grand consort on Sunday evening, a faculty concert (open to participants, families, and friends), and a banquet. There will be plenty of opportunity and space for pick-up consorts and gatherings. The workshop will end on Saturday, July 16, with the student performance, followed by lunch.

Wednesday afternoon and evening will be free for sightseeing or other activities. The campus is within easy driving distance of hiking trails in the North Cascades, berry picking in Duvall and Carnation, antiquing in Snohomish, and many other attractions. There are many wonderful restaurants in Seattle, Tacoma, and surrounding communities for the Wednesday evening meal. Students are also free to visit attractions unique to Tacoma—the Point Defiance Zoo, the LeMay Classic Car Museum, the Museum of Glass—to play music, or simply to relax.

Accommodation and Registration

Founded in 1888 by the United Methodist Church, the University of Puget Sound (UPS) is a residential, national liberal arts college. In 2012, UPS was named one of only 40 schools included in Colleges That Change Lives. UPS has a student body of approximately 2500 undergraduates, and well over 200 graduate students, on a handsome campus in the heart of Tacoma, Washington, about 35 miles south of Seattle.

Accommodations in UPS’s Trimble Hall—where classes will also convene—consist of suites of single rooms that share a common kitchenette, lounge and bath. The dining hall where all meals are served (except for dinner on Wednesday), is only a few steps from Trimble. Cost for individual resident attendees for tuition, room and board is $1125. Two positions for commuting students are available for $825, which covers only tuition. One work-study position is available; please inquire.

The registration form and a non-refundable deposit of $100 must be received by May 13, 2016, with the balance of fees due by June 10, 2016. However, since space is very limited we encourage you to register as early as possible to avoid disappointment.
